Subject: Qualification of an enterprise as an SME - IWA Consulting ApS

Dear Mrs Ostermann

Following your submission of 29/11/2019, please find below confirmation that the SME status has been extended for one additional year.

Client companies:

A SME declaration must be submitted for any client you intend to access SME incentives on behalf of, prior to submitting the corresponding applications or requests for scientific advice. Those companies will then be listed in annex to this qualification accordingly.

Any requests for assistance pursuant to Regulation (EC) No 2049/2005 should be addressed to the SME office. Please quote your EMA/SME number in any future correspondence with the Agency and your customer account number for all fee related enquiries/requests.

Qualification of an enterprise as a micro, small or medium-sized enterprise (SME) for EMA related services only

Notes

Please note that the SME status granted, herein, is applicable solely for EMA related activities and does not serve for other EU funding programmes.

In accordance with Article 4.2 of the Annex to Commission Recommendation 2003/361/EC, where at the date of closure of the accounts an enterprise finds that, on an annual basis, it has exceeded the SME headcount or financial ceilings, this will not result in the loss of SME status unless those ceilings are exceeded over two consecutive accounting periods. The company's SME status will, therefore, expire two years after the date of closure of the accounts on which the declaration has been based.

It remains the responsibility of the applicant enterprise to ensure that the information declared in relation to its SME status is accurate. The Agency reserves the right to request further information from the company to establish that the SME criteria are met and may, at any time, perform audits as part of its SME programme. The applicant will be liable to consequences in case of a false declaration.

Information on the company is published in the public SME register on the EMA website, in line with the completed e-questionnaire.
